

Diagnostic Imaging Residency and Fellowship Openings

Diagnostic Imaging Residency

Logan College of Chiropractic is accepting applications for its three-year residency in diagnostic imaging. Upon successful completion of the program requirements, the resident is eligible to sit for examination by the ACBR. The opening is available in September 2014.

Diagnostic Radiology Fellowship:

The Diagnostic Radiology Fellowship is a one-year comprehensive academic and clinical training program covering the full continuum of diagnostic imaging with special emphasis on musculoskeletal diagnostic ultrasonography. Completion of the program will prepare diagnostic imaging residents or board-certified chiropractic radiologists for a career in private practice, academics or research, and eligibility for the ACBR. The opening is available in September 2013.

Logan College of Chiropractic is an EOE.
