

Logan University Frequent Asked Questions

In all organizations, it is often confusing which department is responsible for which items. This cheat sheet will assist in understanding which department and what person you should speak to first regarding a variety of subjects and topics. Please refer to the Logan website (logan.edu/Directory) to identify the name, position and office assignment of each person responsible. In the event that you don't feel that the person you spoke with gave you an adequate answer, please reach out to their supervisor next. Organizational charts can be found on the Logan website under "About Logan".
